CVI Member/Co-trustees may choose to be private venture capitalist working in general or strategic enterprise development engaged in utilizing, offering, acquiring or contributing private equity and venture capital in mainly private companies. This can be done without securities or investing, as discretionary, deployable resources that you have control of is the name of the game in an greatly expanded business options environment.

Membership in the Private Venture Capital Group and the Vision+Opportunity presented, expands exponentially providing a range of relevant options that may be very useful and advantageous in your life, and provide additional resources and services to the existing and future markets and market demands. Being part or of the solution and puzzle is a choice.

The ongoing development of personal, social and relationship based networks in a general or focused area of interest such as this may be extremely beneficial to all members and for the promotion of the Canadian economy. Rules for intel, assets, speed, power and stealth apply.

Self directed accounts and options, active management and various ownership, control and voting structures enabled with CVI are a fundamental departure from many other limiting, expensive, complex and slower options, in addition to a massive difference in mentality and operational capabilities. We don't expect anyone to be bored or go into a coma with options in an alternate reality. This is a lot more personal, private and enterprise driven.
